About Ujjain

Ujjain is one of India's most ancient and sacred cities, resting along the banks of the holy Shipra River in Madhya Pradesh. Known historically as Avantika, the city holds immense religious significance as the abode of the Mahakaleshwar Jyotirlinga—one of the twelve most sacred shrines dedicated to Lord Shiva—and as one of the four prestigious sites that host the massive Simhashta Kumbh Mela every twelve years. Beyond its deep spiritual roots, Ujjain boasts a rich heritage as a historical epicenter of culture and science, having served as the capital under Emperor Vikramaditya, the legendary king. Ujjain (also known as Ujjayini) is an ancient and historical city with a glorious history of more than five thousand years. It has been considered one of the seven most pious cities (mokshadayaka) of Indian culture. Besides the fabulous and attractive recently built Mahakal Loka, the city is also famous for Sandipani Ashram (where Lord Krishna studied), Kal Bhairav Temple, Harsiddhi Temple, Ram Ghat, Mangalnath, Shipra river front, Chintaman Ganesh, Gadhkalika, Siddhanath, Bhartrihari Caves, Vedha Shala, Bhasma Aarti, etc. The Simhashta Kumbh will also be held in 2028. The City is a tourist paradise. Today, it blends timeless devotion with modern cultural vibrancy, attracting millions of pilgrims and travelers to its grand temple corridors, historic ghats, and distinct Malwa heritage.

About Samrat Vikramaditya Vishwavidyalaya:

Established on March 1, 1957, Samrat Vikramaditya Vishwavidyalaya (formerly known as Vikram University) is a premier public state university situated in the historic city of Ujjain, Madhya Pradesh. Named in honour of the legendary ruler King Vikramaditya, the university stands as a vital academic hub in the Malwa region, dedicated to fostering higher learning, research, and cultural heritage. Spanning a lush campus, the university encompasses more than 200 affiliated colleges, 36 schools of study, and faculties offering diverse undergraduate, postgraduate, diploma, and doctoral programs across streams. The affiliated colleges are spread over a radius of around 300 kilometres and cover seven districts of Ujjain division.

About the Department:

The School of Studies in Political Science was established in the year 1966. Since then, it has carved out a place for itself in the discipline not only in the Universities of Madhya Pradesh but also throughout India and abroad. In view of the performance of this School, the state government identified it as a Centre of Excellence and also decided to develop it as an autonomous department in 1983. In 1987, the University Grants Commission identified this School for implementation of the University Leadership Programme. The two courses/programmes of Public Administration and Human Rights were initiated in 2004-05 and 2007-08, respectively. The School has a team of well-qualified faculty who are continuously engaged in research.
